Where do you see leaders past or present that personally what you are remembering about how leadership?

DebDoug Hilo says (to all) [12:41:18]:
one person I wish for me about their style is that the young officers decided to approach the situation as leader-to-leader

Robert Lorbeski says (to all) [12:47:01]:
Talk more of inclusion rather than compliance

John Morgan says (to all) [12:48:31]:
My learning point is that effective Leaders both Model and Listen instead of some commands "Tell and Com"

Annette Shaked says (to all) [12:50:35]:
again John ... in the same vein respond rather than react

Dave Wolf says (to all) [12:52:11]:
As thought comes to mind for me: Leaders don't create followers. Leaders create more leaders.

Michael Godfried says (to all) [12:53:24]:
Leaders are facilitators of a process that engages other people rather than controllers of a process that manipulates other people (leading could be better)
